Dear Friend,

Two months of bathroom renovations and a balky newsletter server are my excuse this week. Thank you for understanding if this is a little funk (and the photo doesn't really look like short ribs).

A look back at how it all started and my favorite short rib recipe are on tap this week.

On next Monday's radio show we're going to get you organized (or try). Prepare to pick up some great tips!

Some beautiful roses to grace your computer screen for the February calendar.

Wouldn't your food loving friends like to get a treat every Tuesday? Forward this to them and they can sign up for the newsletter. Or click the icons above to send to a friend, share on Twitter, Facebook, or LinkedIn.

Enjoy!

The Accidental Locavore: How it Started

For those of you who don't know my locavore story, here's how it all got started...

As you know, sometimes in life, opportunities come from the most unlikely places.

The Accidental Locavore was created when, in the summer of 2008, my local farmer, Paul, decided not to open his farmstand.

Short Ribs Braised in Beer

Short ribs are a great winter food and the Accidental Locavore has worked and eaten my way through a lot of short rib recipes.

This one from Gordon Hammersley's Bistro Cooking at Home has become my go-to recipe. You can make them in the oven, or a slow cooker, your choice--this is for the oven.

February Calendar

Some beautiful roses to get you through the last winter month. Better than a groundhog--right?
