Dear Friend,

I was asked to check out a new restaurant in Woodstock recently, was it worth the trip?

Last week's piece about what we're calling Magic Sauce ended up on the home page of The Daily Meal. When I last looked it was still there. Scroll down to the bottom of their page to check it out.

Not on my list, but certainly a pleasant surprise, lots of great artisanal bread. My newest fave is January's calendar.

Don't forget about the other venture, Hudson Valley Eats. We're taking on the food scene in the Hudson Valley--restaurants, distilleries, markets, farms, all of it.

Wouldn't your food loving friends like to get a treat every Tuesday? Forward this to them and they can sign up for the newsletter. Or click the icons above to send to a friend, share on Twitter, Facebook, or LinkedIn.

Enjoy!

Sylvia

If you're looking for a restaurant in the Woodstock area, check out Sylvia.

There's a big deck (open in warmer weather) and a discreet sign over the door.

Once inside, you're looking at a big open dining room, an active, open kitchen and a smaller more intimate room with additional seating and a lively bar.

We were seated at a corner table near the bar, where we could see all the kitchen activity.

January Calendar

My new favorite bread (raisin caraway) from Pawling Bread Company is the January calendar.

Accidental Locavore Live!

This week we were speaking with the founder of Sparrow's Nest. Find out how they're helping feed cancer patients and their families in the Hudson Valley.

Next Monday I'll be talking with the founder of Rockerbox Spice Company. She's making the best garlic powder you can get your hands on. It's a great story!

Tune in at 5:00 EDT Mondays. www.pawlingpublicradio.org or listen anytime on our homepage.
