Dear Friend.

Now that the Super Bowl silliness is behind us, let's take a look at a New York icon, the black & white cookie. Have you ever tried bomba rice? It's like a Spanish aborio. Try it in the recipe below!

If you have a friend or two who might like the newsletter, why don't you suggest they sign up by forwarding this email? Or you can click the icons above the logo to send to a friend, Twitter, Facebook, or Linkedln.

Enjoy!

Just Because It's a Legend, Does It Tastes Good?

A long-time friend of the Accidental Locavore's BFF brought over a black & white cookie the other day. For those of you who aren't accustomed to New York's most iconic cookie, it's a big cake-like cookie, iced with a chocolate and white glaze. Like an egg cream, it's the stuff of legends and a deli classic.

Spanish Rice With Artichokes and Ham

The Accidental Locavore has been kicking this recipe around since I first saw it in Food & Wine. It had lots of my favorite things (artichokes, Jamon lberico) and a rice I'd never heard of, bomba. Getting the ingredients together took a little doing and was definitely worth it (see the notes at the end). It may like a lot of steps, but it will give you a good jumping-off point for future meals and it's up to you whether or not you do them all. Feeds 4.
