Dear Friend,

How do you decide what gear gets your counter space (or doesn't)? One of my favorite winter foods is raclette-the "recipe" is below (and no, I don't own a raclette maker either).

If you have a friend or two who might like the newsletter, why don't you suggest they sign up by forwarding this email? Or you can click the icons above the logo to send to a friend, Twitter, Facebook, or LinkedIn.

Enjoy!

What Kitchen Gear Don't You Own?

My Top 5

Now that we're past the silly season of appliances that only see the light of day when the Chia Pets come out, the Accidental Locavore was thinking about kitchen gear that I don't own and why. The gear that made this list was just what I've recently considered owning.

Raclette: Or What Fondue Wants to Be

For years, since the Accidental Locavore lived in Paris, I've been crazy for raclette. If you've never had it, you're missing a fabulous winter dish! It's what fondue wants to be, but isn't. Traditionally, half a wheel of raclette cheese is melted over a fire and the melted bits are scraped onto your plate.
