

Accidentallocavore®

Dear Friend,

This week, have you ever made your own dog biscuits? There may be 250,000 prosciutti aging not far away. Find out where. If you have a friend or two who might like the newsletter, why don't you suggest they sign up by forwarding this email? Or you can click the icons above the logo to send to a friend, Twitter, Facebook, or LinkedIn. Enjoy!
Anne

DIY Dog Biscuits

As you may or may not know, earlier this year the Accidental Locavore rescued a dog. He's a big sweetie named Rif and like most dogs, will do almost anything (like obey) for a cookie. So when my friend Zhu Zhu had a recipe for dog biscuits in a recent newsletter and I happened to have all the ingredients on hand, Rif was going to get some homemade treats. This made about 50 4" bones and took about 45 minutes to get them into the oven. These will keep for a month in a covered container.

DIY Dog Biscuits:

The Accidental Locavore Visits the First Taste Trekker's Conference

As you may have realized, the Accidental Locavore was recently in Providence, Rhode Island. Part of it was work and part of it was more work, if you can call it that. I was invited to the first Taste Trekker's Conference, which was being held there. The purpose of it was to tempt people who travel for food (isn't that all of us?) with destinations and cuisines near and far. Why Providence? Travel & Leisure named it America's favorite city for food and drink.

Providence:

November Calendar

No turkey, just a beautiful orange cauliflower. Click here to download the calendar.

Huffington Post & The Daily Meal

The Accidental Locavore is now part of Huffington Post! Click here to follow on HuffPost. And here to see what I'm up to on The Daily Meal.

PO Box 1289 | Pleasant Valley, NY 12569-1289 US

