Dear Friend,

Thanksgiving is over--phew! Everyone has a story about a Thanksgiving disaster, mine is below, what was yours?

No recipe as we were taking the day off (to eat, of course), so a favorite of ours--albondigas.

My friend Sue gave me a beautiful poinsettia and it's this month's calendar.

If you know anyone who is into food and fun, please ask them to sign up for the newsletter and get a treat every Tuesday. Or you can click the icons above to send to a friend, share on Twitter, Facebook, or LinkedIn.

If there's anything you'd like to see more (or less) of, you can always let me know by replying to the email or commenting on the blog.

Enjoy & Happy Thanksgiving!

Thanksgiving Disasters, Have You Ever Lost a Turkey?

Now that Thanksgiving is over, we can relax for another year and think about what to change for next year.

A few years ago, we had a most interesting Thanksgiving and it all had to do with my family's love of dark meat.

Albondigas or Mexican Meatballs

The Accidental Locavore has been making albondigas (Mexican meatballs) for years. While I used to keep trying different versions, this one, adapted from Rick Bayliss' "Mexican Everyday" is my favorite. When my husband is in a bad mood, a plate of these cheer him right up! Bonus, they're quick and easy.
