

Dear Friend,

Happy 2018!

This week I wanted to take a look back and see how my food predictions for 2017 did. What was your biggest surprise?

A couple of events if you're in the area--Charles Winningham will be giving a winter vegetable cooking class at Sacred Space in Beacon on Friday, January 5th and then he's my guest on the radio show on Monday the 8th. And speaking of the radio show, there's a big chili cook-off to benefit the station on January 13th. Still time to join if you're feeling competitive.

Not on my list, but certainly a pleasant surprise, lots of great artisanal bread. My newest fave is January's calendar.

Don't forget about the other venture, Hudson Valley Eats. We're taking on the food scene in the Hudson Valley--restaurants, distilleries, markets, farms, all of it.

Wouldn't your food loving friends like to get a treat every Tuesday? Forward this to them and they can sign up for the newsletter. Or click the icons above to send to a friend, share on Twitter, Facebook, or LinkedIn.

Enjoy and Merry Christmas to all!

Anne

Food Trends 2017-How Did We Do?

Food trends, here's my look back at food trend predictions for 2017 and how we ended up.

How was 2017?

January Calendar

My new favorite bread (raisin caraway) from Pawling Bread Company is the January calendar.
