Dear Friend,

For those of you who know me, you know I tend not to eat what my friend Leslie calls "beige toothless desserts" so it might surprise you to hear me raving about the bread pudding at a new local BBQ joint. How did that happen?

If you feel like some ribs, this is an easy recipe for country style ribs that I make a lot (and doesn't require a grill or smoker).

I saw these butternut squash (squashes?) at the farm recently and thought it was a good calendar photo. Welcome November.

Wouldn't your food loving friends like to get a treat every Tuesday? Forward this to them and they can sign up for the newsletter. Or click the icons above to send to a friend, share on Twitter, Facebook, or LinkedIn.

Enjoy!

While great BBQ might not be the first thing that springs to mind when you think of restaurants in the Hudson Valley, your chances of finding some good ribs and brisket are awfully high here.

Mexican Style Spare Ribs

Do you have cookbooks that you only use one recipe from? I had almost all of Rick Bayless' books, and while I use Mexican Everyday for a lot of stuff, I usually pull out Mexican Kitchen for the spare rib recipe.
